The presence of the institutional structures meets the need to offer a qualified reference for the planning and the intervention actions, with an implementation of the actions in a trans-cultural field; therefore, the civil society and the target group of young people will be able to benefit from a specialised support to interpret, with a correct methodological approach, different economic, social and cultural issues.

Each study case represents a spur to reorganise relationships and to foreshadow positive changes in the services in order to: improve the performances, have an immediate exchange with young people of the same age, experiment dialogue on topics of common interest, understand the immediate and future outlooks, also in a situation of disadvantage.

Reflection workshops will be organised by RUE in the high schools of the Region.

A video conference to disseminate the results of the “research – action” of European Human Resources (EHR -a no profit association), started in 2006 with the title” EUROREGION: YOUTH, INFORMATION AND IDENTITY OF THE NEW EUROPE ” , aimed to involve students and teachers of Universities and secondary schools of Udine, Trieste, Gorizia, Koper.

The above mentioned “research – action” carried out by “EHR” on behalf of the autonomous Region Friuli Venezia Giulia, Central Directorate for Autonomous Local Bodies, European Affairs and International relations – will offer a good opportunity to discuss further involvement perspectives to cooperate in “ Euroregion” and to have a debate with representatives of regional offices in Brussels that will present the initiative “OPEN DAYS”.

Between 2004 and 2008 the service for community relations and European integration of Autonomous Region Friuli asked non-profit association RUE - European Human Resources actions to support relations between citizens and local and community institutions.
